HOLY MESSAGE TO SUFFERING MANKIND.

Girl is a Catholic, and Became Excited at the Revival and the References to
It by the Family Who Employed Her.

Elizabeth N. J., Dec. 21.—Miss Ellen Feeley, a black-eyed and pretty Irish girl, of Cranford, was taken to the Union County Jail this morning, suffering from a peculiar form of insanity. She imagines herself to be a saint. In the jail this afternoon she knelt on the stone floor and went through various forms of curious incantations and then, arising, danced wildly with the vehemence of a howling dervish. She threw her arms about, and her face assumed a strained expression as she gave utterance to wild appeals for mercy to sinners.

Her prayers in jail to-day were decidedly unique. In her wild talk she said: "May the blessed Mother, who so loved us all, forgive the wicked ones who seek to cast reproach on one who is given the mission to tell all mankind of their sins and beseech their forgiveness. To me is given the power which once was given to the followers of the Virgin Mary. May these men see how grievously they have offended and repented."

Such was the burden of her prayers continually. She prayed particularly for Police Sergeant Walsh, who escorted her from Cranford to this city. The scene in the jail was weird and touching, and the other female prisoners, accustomed as many of them were to scenes of wretchedness and misery, were silent and awed by the spectacle.

The girl has been employed as a domestic in the family of a Mr. Crist, at Cranford. Her malady was not so noticeable until the opening of the big revival meeting conducted in Cranford last week in the First Presbyterian Church. She is a devout Roman Catholic, and the meetings are said to have affected her strangely and violently. She attended two of the meetings, and the discussion of the revival by the family in which she was employed added to her excitement.

Dr. E. J. Montford, the jail physician, examined the girl this afternoon, and pronounced her insane upon religion. She will be taken to the Morris Plains Insane Asylum.

Miss Feeley protested vigorously against being taken to the jail, and said that one bearing such holy messages to suffering mankind should not be thus treated. She soon ceased her protests, however, and proceeded to pray and dance her holy dance within the jail walls. She is not dangerous as yet, and will converse rationally on all subjects, but religion, Miss Feeley's raptures and good looks are said to have attracted to her several young men of Cranford, who paid her devoted attention. She is but twenty-two years old and has no relatives in this country. She came from Ireland in March last.

NOT ART, SAID THE COURT.

Kwik and Schaffner Fined $100 Each for Photographing Rosa Blumfeld
in the Altogether.

Julius Kwik and Walter W. Schaffner, the managers of the "altogether" studio in Greenpoint, were declared guilty yesterday by Justice Walsh, in the Adams Street Court, Brooklyn. The men were arrested several weeks ago for, as alleged, displaying odd photographs of Rosa Blumfeld, a young woman who worked as a model in the studio.

The case has been under consideration for weeks. Justice Walsh gave careful attention to the arguments of the defendants' counsel, to the effect that they were guided by artistic ideas in all they had done.

His Honor rendered his decision yesterday, and fined each artist $100. He referred to pictures No. 2 and No. 3, which he deemed as offensive to good taste, and art. These pictures depicted Miss Blumfeld attired simply in "opera tops" and artistic garters. That Justice Walsh declared, showed that artistic effect was not desired or sought. He continued:

"My judgment is that these defendants are guilty. It might be fair to say that they admit the making of the pictures; they say that they were made for art purposes, to be used as sketches. They had possession of these pictures for about two weeks. In no time during the two weeks were any of these pictures used for the purposes they state. They say that they showed these pictures to other members of the class. They said there were about ten members of the class, but only mention five or six. They also say that the plate exhibit 2 was made as a test plate to test the negative, so as to tell the time the plate would take. That statement is true, there was no necessity for keeping that picture and no necessity to show the picture. It was not to be used for any purposes. In addition to that, a person who has any knowledge of photography knows that negatives are not retained, and both these defendants stated. Kwik stated that the negatives had not been retained because there had been no time to do it. Schaffner stated that it was his place to perfect the negatives. There is only one conclusion to be drawn from this—that the plates might have been retouched and in that way the objectionable features eliminated if they were made for art purposes only. When they retained these pictures without retouching the negatives, they did so at their own peril. The fact of their being artists does not license them to make indecent or obscene pictures. Both men paid their fines and were released."

ROB WHILE POLICE WATCH.

Burglars Ransack a House, with Careless Officers Outside, and Get Away.

Elizabeth N. J., Dec. 21.—Policemen John Sheridan and John O'Leary have been suspended from duty, charged with not arresting burglars when they were fairly within their grasp.

Several nights ago the residence of Paul T. Norton, on West Jersey street, was broken into. Mrs. E. M. Wood, who lives across the street, saw two men conducting themselves suspiciously in front of the house and telephoned to Police Headquarters. Sheridan and O'Leary were sent to investigate. They merely watched the Norton house for a time and then reported that no one had attempted to enter the house.

Nevertheless, the burglars were inside at the time the policemen were on watch. They remained there several hours and carried away much booty. They lay down in the best bed in the house for a rest and partook of choice wines and cigars, and did not leave until daylight.

O'Leary and Sheridan said no one was inside the house, but in the morning a big hole that had been cut in the front door by an anger was discovered.

LEAP YEAR PARTY FAILS.

It Was to Have Been a Gorgeous Affair, but Jealous Young Women Who Didn't Come Spoiled It All.

New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 21.—Miss Nellie Farley and Miss Rose Demore, popular young women living in the Second Ward, engaged an orchestra, rented a hall, arranged a with caterer for a supper, and issued gorgeous invitations, that were distributed among some three hundred of their friends, to a leap year party, which was to take place last Saturday night. It was to be a splendid affair, but there was a feeling of hostility among some young women who were invited.

The invitations to the young ladies stated that they would be assisted to help pay the expenses. When the Misses Farley and Demore arrived at the brilliantly lighted hall Saturday night, they were amazed to find that not a single young woman had arrived before them. Meanwhile the orchestra began to tune up, and young men began to arrive in twos and threes, but there came no young women. By half-past six it was plain that not a single girl had accepted the invitation. The projectors were in a rage at the evident jealousy of those they had asked to make the affair a success. The young men, however, offered consoling words to the young women. However, no one had the heart to stoke the fire, and the thirty-two young men who had appeared said they were satisfied to let things go as they were, but they would remember where their friends lived after that, and they went home.
